WITH Walter L. Bragg as president, Charles P. Ball and James Crook as railroad oners of Alabama, the planters, the ailroads and the public generally, the Montgomery Mail says, may rest satisfied that even-handed justice will be dealt, and the railroad law of that State be faithfully and honestly administered.

WE concur with our cotemporaries in the belief that the time has come for the removal of the penitentiary from Nashville. It is a misance that should long since have been abated. There should be three penitenti-aries—one for each grand division of the State, centrally located—and the convicts should be put to making macadamized roads and keeping them in repair, and should no onger be brought into competition with the honest laborers and mechanics of the State. County convicts should be put to the same new phase, says the New York Public. The cable companies take a part in the contest, and the public is implored to look with favor and sympathy upon the attempt to break down "a grasping and soulless monopoly," in order to preserve another monopoly still more grasping and soulless. If there is any more grasping and soulless. If there is any monopoly existing on land or sea, or under the sea, that particularly deserves smashing, it is the ring of cable companies.

Diversity of Expression-Some Think the Veto Correct and Proper, while Others Condemn It.

NEW YORK, March 3 .- The following are expressions of opinion relative to the veto of the funding bill obtained from some of the leading bankers in the city: "THE VETO IS ALL RIGHT,"

"I SEE NO GOOD REASON," "I SEE NO GOOD REASON."
"Why the bill should have been vetoed," said Pisk of Fisk & Hatch, "There was every probability of its success when put in operation, and but little lear of its faffure, except in the minds of those who were anxious to see it fail. It will either be used to bring about an extra session of congress or the government will be out of pocket some millions in the way of interest before the bill can be passed at the regular session. There are $500,000,000 of six per cents, and $200,000,000 of six per cents, outstanding, and a failure to refund will cost the governments the difference between the three or five and six per cents for all time from which refunding might have begun."

VICE-PRESIDENT THOMPSON VICE-PRESIDENT THOMPSON of the Chase National Bank, said: "I don't think it would make a great deal of difference to the country whether the President had or had not veused the bill. Everything is booming now anyhow, and is likely to continue so from present appearances. I have succeeded in clearing up one point, however." "What is that?"
"Statements have been published that Treasuser Giffillan would not allow greenbacks and gold deposited to be withdrawn, but would insist on the withdrawal of the bonds. In answer to an inquiry, the compitroller of the currency and gold deposited to be windrawn, but would missist on the withdrawal of the bonds. In answer to an liquiry, the comptroller of the currency writes: "The treasurer will, I understand, return greenbacks to versons who may have deposited them, provided the bonds which secured their circulations still remain on deposit, and none of the circulations still remain on deposit, and none of the circulations still remain on deposit, and none of the circulations still remain on deposit, and none of the circulation of the banks to with the deposit of the bonds. If the five per cent, bonds are again deposited, new certificates must be issued. This will enable the banks to withdraw their currency, and hold their circulation to exactly the extent to which they have not already withdrawn their bonds from the treasury. To Hon. R. B. Hayes, President of the Chica-States:

My DEAR SIE—Having been elected a member of the senate of the United States. I have the honor to resign the office of secretary of the treasury, to take effect this day. In thus severing our official relations, I avail myself of this opportunity to express my grateful appreciation and heartfelt thanks for the support and assistance you have uniformly given me in the discharge of the duties of that office. I shall ever cherish with pleasant memories my friendly associations with you as a member of your cabinet, and shall follow you in your retirement from your great office. With my bear without and blighest regards, I am very truly SECRETARY SHERMAN TAKING FORMAL

Secretary Sherman took leave this after noon of the officers and employes of the treasury department, who had assembled in his room, in the following words, in reply t the address of Assistant Secretary French:

I have received this mark of your appreciation and kindness with more emotion than is usual with me. I feel that we have served together during four years of important and exacting labors. During that time I have no doubt that in my intercourse with you I have not always been what you here certify I have been. I have no doubt that I have often been abrupt, impatient, and perhaps have not been observant of all the courtesies and kindnesses that men ought to exercise in their intercourse with each other. Still we have been engaged in the performance of great and important duties where decision was necessary and prompt-duties where decision was necessary and prompt-duties where decision was necessary and prompt-change, may come and go, yet there are men whom I now address who could not be spared from the public service and from this department as readily as any secretary who might be named. Your duties are extremely important. The safety of the public money and public interests all depend upon the exactness with which accounts are kept and the various duties of subordinates are observed and performed. Without the signatures of many of you, I s'en no paper of importance. The great body of the duties of this department are performed by you. It is only here and there when new questions arise or where important policies are to be pursued that the secretary of the treasury performs any important functions. You have custody and control of the collection and disbursement of the public revenues; upon your fidelity all public money is preserved, and thererefore to you more than to me properly comes the credit of the performance of the duties of this department. I am thankful, without any loss or without any grave violation of duty, that you and perhaps I also have performed our duty to the best of our abilities and with satisfactory success. Our country is now prosperous. Four years ago her funancial condition was one of alsoam and despondency. We found our paper money below par, we formed the public eredit unexampled among the nations of the world; we find the public money all ut par with gold coin and safe in the custody of the treasurer and his subordinates. We find the accounting officers pursuing their duties evenly and exactly, without reproach or criticism.

Mr. Sherman was very much affected, and his concluding remarks were broken, and at times almost inaudible. Many officers with whom Mr. Sherman has been intimately associated were also deeply affected.

and security, to be approved by the chairman of the building, it was found impossible to check the flames, which spread rapidly to the adjoining buildings, consuming the entire row from Frederick's corner to Gattlin's saloon, and thence to Frank Lambeth's corner on the south side of the railroad, together with a large portion of their contents. The losses are estimated as follows: The honse occupied by Frederick as a saloon, owned by Lee McComons, $600; Frederick's stock, $500; L. J. Hudson, $700; C. C. Cox, $600; estate of James Rose, $500; Frank Gattlin, $800; W. A. Tipler, $1600; G. W. Tipler, $400; Frank Lambeth, $5000. No insurance.

Mr. Jefferson as "Bob Acres."

Mr. Jefferson made his appearance at the Theater last night in the character of "Bob Acres," in Sheridan's famous comedy of the Rivals, supported by a cast of unusual strength, comprising the names of many actresses and actors well known in the upper strata of dramatic society, Mrs. John Drew among them. The house was full, and

Then followed a desperate race for liberty. He overcame every obstacle, jumping the fences at the race-course as if they were but straws. As his pursuers reached Buena Vista ferry, three miles from the starting point, they saw him pull off on the opposite side of the Cumber-land river. Three colored men attempted to

HOLMAN'S PAD CURES

The ONLY TRUE MALARIAL ANTIDOTE DR. HOLMAN'S PAD is no guess-work remedy-no leeble imitative experiment—no purioined hodge-podge of some other inventor's ideas; it is the the only remedy that has an honestly-acquired right to use the title-word " Pad" in connection

the addition of vegetable ingredients of newly-discovered remedial value and absorptive adaptability, Dr. Holman has greatly increased the scope of the Pad's usefulness and appreciably augmented its active curative power.

This great improvement gives Holman's Pad (with its Adjuvants) complete and unfailing control over the most persistent and unyielding forms of Chronic Disease of the Stomach and Liver, as well as Malarini Blood-poisoning.

Holman's Pads have cured, and are daily curing, diseases of so many kinds, that the list is well-nigh interminable. It includes Malarini Poison of every type, from Aching Bones and Low Fevers to Chills and Dumb Ague; Stomach Diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Chronic Diarrhes, Hatulency, Heartburn, etc., etc.

Liver Diseaseders, like Billousness, Billous-cole, Dangerous Fevers, Sick-Headache, Pains in the Bilde, Billous Fevers, Torpid Liver, etc., etc. Well does this mighty remedy justify the eminent Prof. Loomis's high encomium: "It is nearor a Universal Panacea than anything in Medicine!"

The success of Holman's Pads has inspired imitators who offer Pads similar in form and edor to the genuine Holman Pad. Beware of these bogus and imitation Pads, gotten up only to sell on the reputation of the GENUINE Holman Pad.
